Service Learning at Loyola

Data Highlights, 2009-2010

Fall 2009

- 444 students
- 306 freshmen, 85 sophomores, 57 juniors, 44 seniors, 1 other (exchange)
- 24 courses, 29 sections, 7 first year seminars
- 7963 hours spent on service learning
- Represents an in-kind investment of $148,988
- 45 agency partners worked with Loyola students and faculty
- Partner agencies represented the fields of law, environment, education (including early childhood), elder services, community advocacy and neighborhood centers, health, criminal justice, disability services, language access and accounting

Spring 2010

- 336 students
- 142 freshmen, 81 sophomores, 58 juniors, 53 seniors, 2 other
- 26 courses, 32 sections, 4 first year seminars
- 9225 hours spent on service learning
- Represents an in-kind investment of $172,600
- 48 agency partners worked with Loyola students and faculty
- Partner agencies came from the following areas: law, environment, education (including early childhood), elder services, community development, neighborhood centers, cultural and local heritage preservation sites, health, criminal justice, disability services, language access, accounting

TOTALS

- 780 students
- 61 service learning courses
- 17,188 hours served
- $321,588 in-kind investment in the community

---

1 In 2009, an hour of volunteer labor in the state of Louisiana was valued at $18.71, according to Independent Sector and the Corporation for National and Community Service, the federal government’s service arm.